Dear Judge Koeltl,

My name is Natalie Mashinsky, and I am Alex Mashinsky's youngest daughter. Throughout my life, my dad has been an unwavering source of support, always encouraging me to grow as an individual in every aspect of my life. He constantly inspires me to focus on my education, pursue my passions, and—most importantly—to work hard.

From a young age, I admired my dad's work ethic. But as I grew older, I came to understand that it wasn't just about hard work—it was about his passion. He wasn't simply doing a job; he was deeply invested in his work, driven by a genuine desire to make a difference. He viewed his work as something much larger than himself, a way to contribute meaningfully to society. This passion for making an impact is something that has always inspired me and shaped my own aspirations.

As I enter college this year, I cannot imagine going through the experience without my dad's support. It is very difficult for all of us to understand how our dad, who has always instilled values such as kindness, hard work, and honesty, has ended up in a position that he simply does not deserve. He has always been someone who strives to do right by others, and I hope that his true character will be considered as you weigh your decision.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Natalie Mashinsky
